Storybook Christmas shows set

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas, at least at the Port Austin Community Theatre. Under the direction of Penny Pearson, their holiday show is taking shape. A Storybook Christmas is everything a holiday musical should be, festive, fun, and filled with children, not to mention elves, Santa and Little Red Riding Hood? Well, that's actually what happens when Santa's workshop is visited by your favorite storybook characters, including the Wolf, Red Riding Hood and The Three Little Pigs.

Show dates are Dec. 9, 10, 11, 16, 17 and 18. All seats are $4.00. Call the theatre at 517-738-5217 for more information.

Promote food safety

For the person who has everything, why not give a Christmas present that promotes food safety? Here are some suggestions from the U.S. Department of Agriculture: a meat thermometer, a food timer, cutting boards, slow cooker or insulated lunch box.

RAWSON MEMORIAL Library hosted local author Sandy Sheppard Monday for a reception and book signing. Above, Sheppard (left) signs a copy of her book, "Avaricious Aardvarks and Other Alphabet Tongue Twisters", for Dolores Bednarczyk, Cass City, who purchased 4 for her grandchildren.

Church to present the "Singing Christmas Tree"

A favorite holiday event will happen again this year in Juniata. It's the "Singing Christmas Tree," which will be presented Dec. 17 and 18 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Juniata Baptist Church.

A huge tree-shaped choir loft will be constructed on the auditorium stage to support over 40 choir members that will be singing a program of seasonal music these 2 nights. The "Tree" is covered with live boughs, and decorated with lights and garland for the program, which is presented almost every year at the church. "The Singing Christmas Tree" draws people from all over Michigan's Thumb every year it is performed.

Christmas program Sunday

The annual Sunday School Christmas program at Fraser Presbyterian Church will be held Sunday, Dec. 18, at 7:00 p.m. This year's program will be a combined effort with the youth of the Cass City Presbyterian Church.

In addition to the program, special features will be the handbell choir and instrumental music by the youth. A social hour will immediately follow. The public is welcome to attend.

A combined Christmas Eve service will be held at the Cass City Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m. Christmas Day worship service is at 9:30 a.m. at Fraser Presbyterian Church.

Announce $1000 donation

Robert E. Townsend, director of REMC #10 in Cass City, announces the receipt of a $1,000 donation from the NutraSweet Company. This grant is to assist Thumb Area Television, at the Regional Educational Media Center #10, improve its video camera equipment.

The new video camera is considered a modular unit. It will start as a studio camera at TATV but could function as a field camera in the future when even more sophisticated studio cameras are available. The camera features a remote control unit which will allow the director, in the control room, to control the camera's pan, tilt, zoom and focus. This feature will eliminate the need for a camera operator in the studio.

REMC #10 is located in a former hospital building in Cass City. Thumb Area Television is being developed with a touch of irony. The studio, from which programs will originate, is the former hospital delivery room. The director's control console and editing equipment are located in the former labor room next door.

The NutraSweet Company assisted TATV in December 1993 with a $3,000 grant that pushed TATV "over the top" in matching funds necessary for a federal grant application. The federal grant was subsequently awarded to REMC #10 for its Thumb Area Television project.

REMC #10 is the media/technology support center serving the local schools in cooperation with Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola intermediate school districts.
